CENTRE FOR ASSESSMENT
OF PRIOR LEARNING

Discover how to transform your skills and experience into a formal qualification.

Your experience, our qualifications

At the Centre for Assessment of Prior Learning (CAPL) at Ara Institute of Canterbury, you can have your industry experience assessed by facilitators and translated into credits towards part or all of an Ara qualification. A major advantage of the CAPL process is that you don't need to give up work, income or time to attend classes to gain knowledge and skills you already possess. It's also flexible and can be arranged around your other commitments.

As part of the CAPL process, you'll need to identify, describe and demonstrate the knowledge and skills you've gained through your work. Our assessors will also take into account any qualifications you already have and courses you've done, and they'll identify any gaps you may have in the knowledge and skills needed to complete your chosen qualification. They will then design an individualised pathway to enable you to achieve the qualification within the one year time limit.

The cost to gain a full qualification through CAPL depends on the amount of assessment required, but it is always less than the cost of enrolling to study for the qualification.

Application criteria

This process is available to anyone who can provide evidence that their learning and experience is at the required level for their chosen qualification. The most important factor about your learning is that it must be current and reflect accepted practice in your industry. To be current, you need to have three to five years' experience and have been working in industry within the past five years.

You may have gained your knowledge and learning from different sources including:

- formal learning
- workplace training courses or workshops
- work experience
- life experience, including voluntary work

If English is not your first language you will need to provide evidence that you meet the same language requirements as students enrolling in your chosen qualification at Ara.

How to apply

Read through this information pack to make sure you want to go ahead with an application. If you have any questions contact CAPL by email (capl@ara.ac.nz) or phone 940 8214.

To apply:

- after referring to the Ara website or subject brochure, select the qualification (and specialisation or option if applicable) that you're interested in
 - request the relevant application pack from the CAPL office, or
 - fill in the enquiry form on the CAPL page on the Ara website or, if available, download the application pack from the CAPL page (ara.ac.nz/capl)

CAPL support

We will:

- provide guidance on written and pictorial evidence required for your portfolio, and what the assessor will expect from you
 - provide templates against which you can summarise your evidence, as part of your portfolio
 - explain academic requirements
 - oversee the whole process
 - act as a go-between if you have issues with your assessment/s or assessor.

Initial interview

You'll go through an initial interview with an assessor to:

- discuss your prior learning and experience in relation to the qualification requirements (current, extensive enough, appropriate)
- answer any questions you may have regarding the process, especially around evidence required

- clarify any questions we may have regarding your application
- consider the most appropriate assessment pathway.

This interview may take place in person (preferred), by phone or by video conferencing.

If your application is accepted, we'll contact you with details of your assessment process.

Assessment

Your assessment may include any or all of the following:

- Portfolio - a folder of physical evidence of your experience and knowledge (this will be discussed at the initial interview, but it should include work photos, awards, your application documents, CV, job description, references and any other relevant documents).
 - Attestation - an employer, whānau or referee attests in writing to your experience and knowledge (we must be able to phone the attester to verify this evidence).
 - Practical assessment
 - Assignment/challenge test

Cost

Certificate qualifications	$1,699 to $2,394*
Diploma qualifications	$2,389 to $4,266*

There are two ways to pay:

1. Payment in one sum - you will be sent an invoice once you have begun your assessment.
2. Payment by instalment - in equal amounts paid over a period of up to nine months. This method is conditional on completion of an Ara instalment agreement provided to you by the CAPL office and a credit check conducted and approved by Ara. No results will be released until all fees are received.

CAPL does not offer programmes of study; we offer a facilitation and assessment service and, as such, you will not be eligible for a student loan or allowance.

The actual cost will depend on the amount of time required for support and assessment. Please note that Ara fees are subject to change at any time.*

Graduate profile

A graduate profile describes what a learner will know and the skills and attributes they will have on successful completion of the qualification.

To gain a certificate or diploma based on the learning you've gained from work and personal experience, you will be assessed against the graduate profile at Level 4, 5 or 6. The detailed graduate profile is provided in the application pack for that qualification.

New Zealand Qualifications Framework

The New Zealand Qualifications Authority (NZQA) has developed the New Zealand Qualifications Framework (NZQF) to describe graduates of certificates and diplomas as follows.

Steps to achieve the degree qualification through CAPL

Make an application

Submit the completed application form, a current detailed CV, evidence template or tick list if provided, and any other information that helps detail your experiences. Assistance is available if needed.

We'll check that you've sent all the evidence we require and will contact you to set up your initial interview.

Initial interview & application evaluation

The initial interview will take place during normal working hours at an Ara campus (preferred) or by phone or video conferencing. You'll need to ensure you have at least one hour available.

At this meeting your application will be considered in detail. You'll be advised of the assessment pathway and what we need you to do to proceed. If we consider you a suitable candidate for the CAPL process, we'll contact you with an official letter of acceptance.

Enrol into CAPL

To proceed, you need to complete and return to CAPL:

- your signed letter of acceptance
- your completed enrolment form
- any other material requested.

Assessment

You'll be contacted by your assessor to begin the assessment process. Your assessor will discuss with you the evidence you need to provide and work out with you a schedule of assessments or milestones you need to achieve.

Decision & notification of outcome

Verbal feedback will be given during your assessment/s. If you fail part of the assessment or assessments we'll tell you what you have to do to complete your qualification, and what this will cost.

No results will be notified until your CAPL fees are paid in full. An appeals process is available through the Ara Appeals Procedure, if required.

How to apply

Applying online

If you know which course you want to study, go to that course's page on our website and look for the 'Apply Now' button. This will open a form specifically for that course. You can save as you go and return to it later. When you finish, simply click 'Submit' and we'll start processing your application.

Applying using a hard copy application form

Printed application forms are available at all Ara campuses.

Alternatively, you can download a PDF to print at ara.ac.nz/study-options/how-to-apply. Once you've completed your application form, drop it in to your nearest Ara campus, or mail it to:

Ara Enrolment Centre
